

HOWARD & ROZ

(HOWARD enters. He's in his late 20's, very good-natured and quite good-looking. At the moment, he's rather frightened.)

HOWARD. ...Sweetheart?

ROZ. Hi, honey. Come on in.

(They kiss.)

HOWARD. Are your parents here?

ROZ. I don't think so.

HOWARD. (Relieved.) Oh, good.

ROZ. Howard...

HOWARD. Well I'm sorry. You know how I feel about this.
"Meeting the in-laws." It makes me nervous.

ROZ. You have nothing to worry about.

HOWARD. I'd be all right if they weren't such...big stars.
The glamorous life...

ROZ. Howard, does this look glamorous?

HOWARD. (Looking around.) ...Well, yeah. It does.

ROZ. This is Buffalo, New York. It's like... Scranton without the charm.

HOWARD. I was born here, actually.

ROZ. Oh.

HOWARD. I like Scranton, too.

ROZ. Howard, the point is, it's not Broadway. And they're doing rep!

HOWARD. Right... What's "rep" again?

ROZ. More than one play. In repertory. They alternate.
Right now it's Private Lives, by Noel Coward, and Cyrano de Bergerac. Only they've cut down Cyrano for a small company. They do it with five actors.

HOWARD. Aha. The sort of...one-nostril version.

(He laughs; then sighs with anxiety.)

ROZ. It's sort of sweet that you're nervous about meeting them.

HOWARD. Nervous? Look at me, I'm a wreck! Do they know that I'm in show business, too?

ROZ. Howard, you're not exactly in show business. I mean, they wouldn't think of it as show business.

HOWARD. Oh. (Beat.) I am on television.

ROZ. You're a weatherman.

HOWARD. Right I mean, it's kind of acting, like your parents.

ROZ. Howard, they do Shakespeare. And Chekhov. You do precipitation.

HOWARD. (Glum.) Yeah, I know...

ROZ. Howard, I'm very proud of you. It's a wonderful job.
We can settle down and have children—

HOWARD. I love children. I want to have six, at least.

ROZ. Let's start with one.

HOWARD. Okay.

ROZ. Now listen to me. I want you to be very, very nice to them. Tell them how much you admire their work.

HOWARD. Well I do! I mean, my God, when I was a kid, they were on the cover of Life magazine. "Shakespeare on Broadway—"

ROZ. "Look Out Barrymores, Here Come the Hays." They had it reproduced on their china.

HOWARD. Wow.

ROZ. Then they had two big flops in a row and went to Hollywood.

HOWARD. Yeah, I know. I saw every movie they ever made!

ROZ. Good—

HOWARD. "Sergeant Yukon," "It Came From Below—" (Suddenly.) Oh my God! I forgot the bag!

ROZ. What bag?

HOWARD. I have a surprise for your father. When I was in New York last week, I read in the paper about an auction. They were selling off props and stuff from one of the big studios and...well, I bought one of your father's old costumes. I thought he'd like it.

ROZ. That is so sweet! Which one did you get?

HOWARD. General George S. Patton! Wait'll you see it! The trouble is, I don't have anything for your mother yet. I guess she wouldn't take cash...?

ROZ. Howard. They will love you for who you are.

HOWARD. What if I freeze up?! I-I-I do that sometimes, when I'm nervous! I can't even remember my own... name.

ROZ. You'll be fine! I promise! (A kiss.) All right?

HOWARD. ...All right.

ROZ. I'll see if they're in their dressing rooms.

HOWARD. I'll go with you.

ROZ. You stay here, in case they show up.

HOWARD. I'd rather go with you—

ROZ. Howard, stay! Nothing's going to happen in two minutes.
